2021 Annual Meeting

Get ready for the Annual Membership Meeting on Thursday, March 11th!

Things will look different this year because of COVID-19, but we are working out the details based on local and federal mandates that will guide us in keeping our members, staff and board safe and healthy. We will be communicating the specifics as soon as our plan is in place. While things may look and feel different, you can be assured that we understand how important this meeting is to you, the member-owners, and will do everything we can to provide you with important information about your co-op.

Members will receive an annual meeting notice and proxy in the mail prior to the meeting. Notifications will also be published in the Powell Tribune and Cody Enterprise.

This year, we have two directors whose terms are expiring: Scott Smith and Spencer George.

What is the function of the Board of Directors?

A rural electric cooperative board, working within the established by-laws, manages the business and affairs of the corporation. These duties include, but are not limited to: strategic planning, writing policies, reviewing the budget, and entering into contracts. Board members also stay informed on current industry and legislative issues that may have an impact on the cooperative. The Board ensures the corporation shall at all times be operated on a non-profit basis for the mutual benefit of its patrons.

It is important for each Director to recognize, understand, and believe in the Seven Cooperative Principles: Voluntary and Open Membership, Democratic Member Control, Members' Economic Participation, Autonomy and Independence, Education, Training, and Information, Cooperation Among Cooperatives, and Concern for Community. This set of core principles and values separates cooperatives from other business models by putting the needs of the members first.

Capital Credits

One of the benefits of being a member of Garland Light & Power Co. is that you are also an owner. Your ownership is reflected in any excess margins the cooperative might have at the end of the year, above and beyond the cost of providing electricity to you.

These excess margins are tracked through what we call “capital credits.” Each member of the cooperative is allocated their share of capital credits or excess margins based on their patronage provided to the cooperative each operating year.

These capital credits are held as equity in the cooperative and provide financial stability to the company for many years into the future.

Each year the Board of Directors reviews the financial position of the cooperative and makes a decision on whether or not to “retire” capital credits back to the membership.

When capital credits are retired, they are sent back to the member in the form of a check. Capital credits are retired back on a FIFO (first in-first out) basis. The accounting term “FIFO” means that the members who first provided the equity to the company will be the first ones to get their equity back.

Each time during the capital credit retirement process, we find that some portion of the contact information for those who are to receive a capital credit check is no longer valid; leaving the company a limited amount of information to return the equity back to the contributing patron.

Below is the most recent list of individuals or organizations that have an unclaimed capital credit payment. We appreciate your help in returning these margins to the contributing patrons or their rightful heirs. Should you find your name listed or if you can provide helpful and specific information regarding a listing, please call us at 307-754-2881.
